

PARTLY SUNNY IN DENVER

August 16th to September 20th 2008

DIALOG:Denver

Opening Reception for the Artists, August 21 6-8pm
Robischon Gallery

A politically-themed exhibition at the Robischon Gallery, addressing issues of both American and global import held in conjunction with the Dialog: City.

www.robischongallery.com

August 24th to August 29th

Dialog:City

Partly Sunny Opening Reception, August 24th 11-5pm
Denver Pavilions, 10-6 daily

Partly Sunny premieres in Denver as part of Dialog:City, an arts and cultural event that catalyzes civic discourse by inviting internationally renowned artists and designers to create participatory, interactive, and dialogical site-specific works in neighborhoods across the city of Denver for citizens and audiences of the greater Denver region. Inspired on the occasion of the City of Denver hosting the Democratic National Convention, Dialog:City is a non-partisan creative and civic catalyst whose mission is to spark dialogue across the city through innovative cultural initiatives.

www.dialogcity.org

Events during Dialog:City

Sunday August 24 – Opening 11-4

Partly Sunny opens for Denver's Day of Green Programming

Monday August 25 -- Partly Sunny initiated Event

Green Constitutional Congress,

A Symposium on the Future of Environmental Action

Temple Hoyne Buell Hall, Denver Performing Arts Center, 6-8pm FREE

Tuesday August 26 – Partly Sunny visits Denver School for the Arts

(Exhibit at the Denver Pavilions remains open)

Thursday August 28 – Reception with Rocky Mountain College of Art & Design (private)

Friday August 29 – Partly Sunny closes in Denver

For more information about Partly Sunny see: partlysunny.risd.edu